Anne Moore, Director of Student Financial Services gave the Board a run-through of the new online bill pay system at BCC.

The new system was launched on July 21st where students can pay their bill online. There are still some kinks to be worked out. The system is helping with the College's green initiative, no longer printing and mailing the over 3,500 invoices per term.

e. New Education Department

Patty Kay, Department Chair of the Education Department reported on the new education department.

Early childhood education (birth-8 yrs.) and elementary education (grades 1-5) were previously in two separate divisions. They are now together in the new education department, in the Humanities division.

A proposal was written in November 2015 outlining the reasons why having the two programs in one division. Unification would be advantageous for BCC students and the community.

The newly formed department will be able to be creative with programming, enabling new ventures such as the cohort program and articulation agreements. This will present a more cohesive presence to the community so that we can recruit any student who may be interested in teaching.

Patty Kay introduced Alexandra Brandon a student in early childhood education program who spoke about her excitement for being in the program this fall.
