What's New During COVID ?

RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS DURING COVID-19

❖ Virtual Lab Assistants

Even while most BCC offices and resources are currently only being offered remotely, we understand that students need tech assistance. The Digital commons has Virtual Lab Assistants available throughout the week to assist with Moodle questions or help with just about any other technology. With a majority of classes being offered online, the Digital Commons is ready to help you find success in those courses. So, check out the Digital Commons page and meet virtually face to face with a lab assistant.

❖ Tutorial Services

Tutorial Services is open for business and offering remote tutoring services. Meet with a proficient tutor to help you better understand course material and prepare to ace those exams and quizzes! Other things Tutorial Services can help with include developing study strategies, help with your writing assignments, and assisting with time management and organization skills. Fill out a request form to schedule an appointment today.
