

CLOTH FACE COVERING GUIDELINES

(called "mask" for convenience)

Wash hands before donning mask.

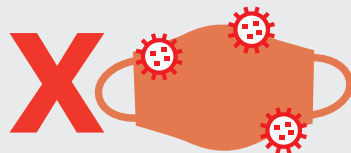

Change mask immediately when wet, dirty, or presumed to be contaminated.

To prevent cross-contamination, do not dangle mask below your chin, around the neck, or from your rearview mirror. For the same reason, do not park your mask on your head.

The moisture buildup inside your mask will encourage mold growth. Outside and inside of your mask will be colonized by bacteria and fungi. Therefore, wash mask after use and do not reuse unwashed masks. A good place to store the mask until you can wash it is a plastic bag.

If you wish to make your own mask, choose material that is breathable (no vacuum cleaner bags, no HEPA filters) and has a reasonable filtration efficiency (cotton mix or 100% cotton seem to work best).
